A Renaissance of Spanish National Music

Abstract: Up until the 19th century, the “classical” musical culture of Spain found itself in a major decline, having lost its luster, inspiration, and incentive. It was to remain this way until the beginning of the 19th century. Over a span of 200 years, three composers, Enrique Granados, Isaac Albéniz, and Federico Mompou, would emerge to significantly affect and revitalize Spanish national music in its finest form. Each composer displays a distinct musical background, yet through their musical compositions, they reveal the unique characteristics that bring to life the beauty of Spanish nationalistic music.
